Team Building Exercise #16

Objective: Increase eye for details.

Steps :

- Have your team separate into two equal lines facing each other.
- Face away from each other and have one line change five things about themselves (ex: taking hair down from a pony tail, switching shoes with another group member, adding a hat or specs etc)
- Have the lines face each other again (each person facing the same person they faced before). Have the group that did not make any changes figure out the changes in appearance of the other group.
- Switch roles and repeat.
